On January 25, 2017, the California Apartment Association (CAA) and Sonoma County Community Development Commission (CDC) will be hosting an evening conversation for local housing providers to discuss the Sonoma County Housing Choice Voucher program.

We encourage rental owners and managers who are currently participating in the program, and also owners and managers who have questions or concerns about the program, to attend.

At this meeting, you can voice your current concerns with the Housing Choice Voucher program, ask questions about participation, and provide input on incentives for participation and potential program changes. This opportunity will also allow the local housing authority to respond to your questions and address any concerns.

We look forward to your involvement in this important conversation as we work together toward finding increased affordable housing solutions in Sonoma County.
